

A Pilot's Death

(Exclusive Sun Photos)

WRECKAGE OF A SURPLUS navy trainer, which crashed a few miles from Palm Springs Saturday, is shown spread over a wide expanse of desert between Ramon Road and Highway 60-70-99. The pilot, 31-year-old Stanley Eugene Chudy of North Hollywood, was killed in the accident. Although witnesses said that the pilot was "stunting" when the plane crashed, investigators report it is possible that a wing came off during flight, "and that would give a witness the idea that the plane was stunting." The pilot's body was found still in the cockpit of the aircraft. Top photo, men who rushed to the crash throw sand on the burning wreckage to put out the fire. Bottom photo, the wreckage is shown. Although one report was that the plane had lost a wing, this picture shows both wings close to the plane, arrows. The pilot is survived by his wife, Janet; son, Gene, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Isallo of Chicago, Ill. The body will be sent to Chicago for services and interment. ## Chest Donations Up, But Still Far From Quota

Contributions to the Community Chest climbed a few notches over the weekend, bringing the total slightly over $21,000—but the Chest is still "in the red" as far as its $50,000 goal is concerned.

With less than two weeks to go before the March 1 deadline, Chest officials doubted whether they would hit the goal figure, but they hoped at least to climb above the 50 per cent mark.

THE $50,000 GOAL represents the minimum amount necessary to keep alive the many groups financed by Chest funds. Insufficient funds mean curtailed activities for such organizations as the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society, the Youth Center and Boy and Girl Scouts.

Chest coffers were bolstered with an estimated $2,100 in proceeds from Joe Pawling's fabulous "House of Tomorrow." Tours of the futuristic home needed a daily average of $100 for the three weeks it was opened to the public.

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTION totaling $301 was dumped into the Chest fund by visitors to the Prairie Schooner Trailer Lodge "49er Day" party staged Friday as a Chest benefit.

Proceeds were garnered from a day-long barbecue, sale of household items, square dancing and various contests.

MRS. LUDY SELWYN and Bob and Nellie Skiles, party chairmen, today proffered their thanks to all the citizens who donated articles, materials and time to the party, making it a "great success."

In the last week, Palm Springs area trailer parks have poured at least $3,000 into the Chest fund, while $500 each was contributed by Rancho Mirage and Cathedral City.

Miller Again Attacks Sewer Bonds, Others Support Plan

Councilman Frank Miller at the City Council meeting Monday renewed his attack on the proposed sewer bond election, but admitted upon questioning by other councilmen that he personally "is not against the election" and also that the new sewer system "is badly needed."

He contended, however, that the plan being presented is wrong, as certain sections of the city will be provided access to sewerage lines "10 years before they need to be," and therefore will pay proportionate taxes "10 years before they need to," and that people now on sewerage lines will vote against the bonds "because they don't want to pay twice for a sewerage system."

OPPOSITION TO his arguments was expressed by several sources. The citizens committee on the sewer bond election, the group whose job it is to see that the voters are informed to all particulars of the election, said that if the bond issue is defeated in March, the people who are now on the

First Degree Burns Suffered In Fire at Cafe

A Cathedral City man is today recovering from first degree burns suffered when a grease trap burst into flames in the kitchen of Cisco Cafe, 67-625 Highway 111, Cathedral City, Sunday night.

Albert White was cleaning the kitchen when the grease ignited, scorching his hands. The resulting fire burned through ceiling insulation and blistered the walls, causing an estimated $400 damage, the State Division of Forestry reported.

Forestry fire fighters stopped the blaze before it could cause further damage and sent White to Desert Hospital.

Wallace Files As Candidate For School Post

Charles H. Wallace of Thousand Palms today became the first candidate to file for the single post on the Board of Education, Palm Springs Unified School District.

In a statement issued to The Desert Sun, Wallace announced his candidacy for the post now held by Haig Harris of Rancho Mirage. Harris to date has not announced whether or not he will be a candidate.

WALLACE, 50, has been a resident of Thousand Palms for 13 years. He has two children, the youngest a boy 14 years of age, a freshman in Palm Springs High School.

A graduate of Southern Methodist University with a degree in public administration, Wallace had six years experience in city and federal government, 10 years experience with a major oil company and a public utility, and for several years has been a small independent businessman. He is operator of the Wallace Date Shop at Thousand Palms.

The election is scheduled for Friday, May 17, with filing deadline for candidates on April 17.

U.S. to Study Sanctions Against State of Israel

Telephone Hearing to Be Resumed

PUC to Continue Sessions Feb. 21 In Los Angeles

Desert area residents will focus their attention to Los Angeles tomorrow and Thursday of this week, when the Public Utilities Commission will hold two meetings concerning the California Water and Telephone Company.

Tomorrow, the PUC will hold a hearing on advertising rate increases, which to date has had little or no protest voiced against it.

THURSDAY, HOWEVER, Public Utilities Commissioners will continue testimony into the telephone service in the desert communities of Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert.

The hearing was continued early this month from Palm Springs, when a sufficient amount of time was not had for the company to present witnesses for examination by the protesters.

HAL KAPP, president of the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce; Harry B. Cannon, Palm Desert attorney, and Clayton Thomas, special attorney for the Chamber of Commerce, will go to Los Angeles Thursday to be present during the hearing.

Week before last, a special Legislative interim committee on Public Utilities and Corporations, held an informal hearing in the Village on the telephone situation, and following the hearing Assemblyman Charles Chapel of Inglewood, chairman of the body, charged that the company was operating under a policy "of the public be damned."

"We are going to submit a written report to the State Legislature," he said, "and when we return in October or November, we had better see something done."

24 Donate Blood To Blood Bank

Palm Springs donors yesterday added 24 pints of blood to the Riverside-San Bernardino two-county blood bank.

The total fell one short of the 25-pint quota set for the Blood Bank's monthly visit to Desert Hospital.

Hospital Director Bob Henwood urged a bigger turnout next month, and he asked groups and organizations to bolster their Blood Bank "credit" by adding donations to their reserves.

TUNING IN ON TRANSLATOR produced television programs. Translator, Inc., Engineer Don Starkey clears the screen while City Councilmen Jerry Sanborn, Frank Miller and Leonard Wolf stand by. The set successfully demonstrated the ability of Translator to send "airborne" TV images into the city. (Desert Sun Photo).

Translator Television Test Today Successful, Clear Images Appear

For the first time in Palm Springs history, "airborne" television waves beamed from local generators illuminated television receivers in the resort city today.

In a special demonstration of transmission from Palm Springs Translator System, Inc. towers, non-cable impulses cast images on a battery of television sets switched on for a group of officials and businessmen.

THE SUCCESSFUL demonstration drew unanimous approval and inspired city officials to view the possibility of eventual city or Chamber of Commerce ownership of the Translator stations.

The demonstration was conducted by Harry Paisley, Translator System vice president who ordered the switch turned on for Channel 4. Moments later, a clear, undistorted picture filled the screen.

Signals picked up from Los Angeles were beamed from towers on Edom Hill up to both outdoor and indoor Ultra High Frequency antennas and shunted through converters mounted on the sets.

PAISLEY SAID his company is now ready to transmit Channel 4 and will be able to send out signals from Channel 2 within three weeks.

Explaining that Translator is a non-profit group, he said that all financing would come from public subscription. He said total cost of broadcasting five channels would be about $30,000. After that, the only cost would be maintenance, rated at about $10-12,000 a year.

Individual set owners, he said, will be asked to voluntarily subscribe $15, or more, for each set. That, plus the expense of about $30 for antenna and converter, would be the total cost.

CITY COUNCILMEN Ted McKinney and Frank Miller remarked that the city may do well to take over the operation.

City Attorney Jerry Bunker noted that the Chamber of Commerce could manage the operation "quite adequately."

But Translator directors stated they would happily turn the company over to either agency, once it is paid for.

Museum Advance Gifts Drive Launched at Luncheon Here

Former Palm Springs Mayor Philip Boyd launched the advance gifts division campaign for the $200,000 Desert Museum building fund campaign, yesterday urging campaign workers to set the pace for creation of a modern storehouse for natural treasures.

More than 40 prominent Village civic leaders heard Boyd proclaim the need for this treasure trove designed to serve as a center for information, education and recreation of Palm Springs residents and visitors.

BOYD TRACED the history of the museum, citing the early efforts of the pioneering White sisters, and Miss Cornelia White's contribution of the present museum home on Tahquitz Drive, between Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive.

The one time Village mayor stressed the importance of an up-to-date, well-equipped museum as a focal point of national interest, a living example of "a living desert."

HE WAS INTRODUCED by Harold Hicks who, with Fred G. In-

All members are urged to attend, to discuss highway and other problems of the area.

Ike, Leaders Of Congress To Confer

President Returns to Washington, Ends Vacation

WASHINGTON AP — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that President Eisenhower will discuss with congressional leaders Wednesday the question of sanctions against Israel if she refuses to withdraw her forces from Egyptian territory.

President Eisenhower flew back from Thomasville, Ga., where he cut short a vacation to deal with the Middle Eastern situation. He expected to confer with Dulles shortly after his arrival this afternoon, and will meet with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders Wednesday.

DULLES WOULD NOT say whether the administration now favors sanction against Israel if she does not comply with a U.N. resolution calling for withdrawal of Jewish troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Dulles said the sanctions issue will be discussed Wednesday in what he called an open minded way along with other Middle Eastern problems.

ISRAELI AMBASSADOR Abba Aban leaves New York today for Jerusalem to report on the stalled U.S.-Israeli negotiations for withdrawal of the Jewish occupation forces.

Dulles said he hoped Ambassador Henry Habot Lodge Jr., chief American U.N. delegate, would be in Washington for the Dulles-Eisenhower talk this afternoon and the conference with congressional leaders.

THE SECRETARY said it is possible that after these two meetings the United States might go to the United Nations with a program of its own.

But he said this government has not decided whether to take the initiative in any U.N. action resulting from Israeli defiance.

Ida Cantor Rests Comfortably After Attack

MIAMI BEACH AP — Ida Cantor, wife of comedian Eddie Cantor, was reported resting "very comfortably" today at the Miami Heart Institute.

Mrs. Cantor collapsed a few hours after her husband was honored Saturday night at an Israel bond dinner here. He celebrated his 65th birthday in conjunction with the affair. Cantor also has been having trouble with his heart recently and attended the bond dinner against the advice of his physician.

THE WEATHER
Desert Area Forecast: Sunny today and Wednesday. Little temperature change. Highs today 67-82. Saturday's high 85; low 52. Sunday's high 79; low 50, and a trace of rain. Monday's high 81; low 54.

Circus Big Top Ball Co-Chairmen Named

Desert Circus planning took a big stride forward today with the naming of two prominent Village Socialites, Mrs. Howard Morris and Mrs. Samuel Salinger as co-hostesses of the traditional Big Top Ball.

Location of the social highlight of Desert Circus Week, this year scheduled for March 27 through 31, will be at the luxurious and spacious Chi Chi in the heart of Palm Springs. It will be held on Friday night, March 29.

NOTED FOR TOP entertainment, the Ball this year also will include the Chi Chi floor show which will present Liberace in a return engagement, according to MacDonald and Sam Janis, Desert Circus co-chairmen.

Tables for the Big Top Ball will be engaged in the order in which checks are received, with tickets now available through the Desert Circus headquarters at 219 South Palm Canyon Drive.

BOTH McDONALD and Janis expressed pleasure in the acceptance of Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Salinger as the co-hostesses of the Ball. "Both women have been active in Desert Circuses of past years for their organizing and planning ability," the co-chairmen said.

Plans of other events during the fun packed Circus Week will be announced as soon as completed, Janis and McDonald added.

Fourth Music Society Series Concert To Be Presented at Center Sunday

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Feb. 24, is the date for the fourth concert in the Palm Springs Music Society Artist Series, which takes place at the Jewish Community Center, with two noted artists playing a program of works by Bach, Beethoven and Brahms. These artists, Gabor Rejto, cellist, and Adolph Baller, pianist, have received wide acclaim for their skillful playing throughout Europe and this country. The New York Herald-Tribune wrote of Baller, who toured as pianist with Yehudi Menuhin for many years: "One of the most superb chamber music players to be heard anywhere... his are poetic, dynamic, perfectly balanced and poised performances."

Further information and tickets are available at the Music Society office at Santos Catering in the Center.

Jacques Foti, With Talent, Determination, Reaches Top After Life of Oppression

By AL LE ANCE

Ever since he swapped his Hungarian citizenship for an American immigration visa, Jacques Foti has pursued success with the dogged determination of a sourdough miner stalking the mother lode.

Foti, who nervously recalls slipping from the heels of two dictatorial governments — Nazi and Communist — is a suave European piano artist who feels that success is a matter to be taken very seriously indeed.

He favors the direct approach.

"ONE DOESN'T wait for opportunity to knock," he explains, "one must go out and grasp it firmly before it skips away."

Which is the kind of bold philosophy that led the 30-year-old keyboard thumper on a 10-year odyssey from a Nazi concentration camp, through Soviet sentry lines to American freedom.

Foti, the sophisticated son of a Hungarian restaurateur, lived an uncertain adolescence as a student of music and the fur business (a "respectable" occupation), and an accomplished saboteur (respectable but not profitable).

HE WAS A youngster in his early teens when, with two likewise youthful comrades, he was assigned to punch holes in the bottoms of cans containing stew bound for German troops — an enterprise that led to the concentration camp.

"We must have poked holes in thousands of cans," Foti recalls. "I often wished I could see the faces of the soldiers who opened them weeks after we completed our mission."

AFTER THE WAR, Foti played tag with Soviet agents, wandering through Eastern Europe as an itinerant pianist with the credentials of an Italian gardener.

It was a curious existence for the dreamy youth who built a repertoire of American jazz by listening to a battered radio, as he wistfully planned for the day he'd captivate American audiences as an entertainer.

But Foti's family, including his French-born mother, had other plans for their prodigal son — they took a dim view of theatrical folk. "They made me study a 'decent' profession," he reported, "so I learned the fur business while I kept music in back of my mind."

BUT FOTI WOUND up studying both music (in a quiet way) and the fur business — his knowledge of the latter being mostly garnered while sweeping the floors of a furrier's shop. He saved his dust pan collection for later study.

Unfortunately, neither his ability as a pianist, his proficiency as an apprentice furrier or the fact that he spoke four languages were much help to Foti when he landed in New York.

"I had three professions (the dabbles in photography), $1.50, two slacks and a shirt when I arrived in this country," he explained.

FOTI NEEDED $50 which he did not have, to join the musicians union; he couldn't crack the tight clique of the fur trade, and there was no market for a photographer sans camera.

This called for the kind of versatility that Foti employed when, as a part-time entertainer in Germany and France, he attracted the attention of American officials who paved the way for his immigration visa.

Foti washed dishes. He washed enough dishes to last the rest of his life and, incidentally, enough to earn him the $50 he needed for a musician's union card.

THE REST WAS easy. For once Foti sat down to a keyboard, his intimate European style, coupled with his deep-toned deliverance of his own cafe society-type sonnets, had the same effect on young society matrons that Presley has on the teen-age set.

However, although most music lovers wax enthusiastically over Foti's casual, easy-going style, he found that his natural friendliness and un-European trait of staring matters square in the eye irked quite a few patrons.

"Most Americans seem to be suspicious of someone that's over friendly," he mused. "I had to tone down a lot, but I still enjoy meeting people."

MEETING PEOPLE is a big thing to Foti, who decided to take a crack at movies by meeting such people as Producer Joe Pasternak, also a former Hungarian.

In typical, open-faced style, Foti breezed through the gates of MGM studios, and wandered around unchallenged until he finally landed before the producer. Publicists at MGM reacted to the story with frank admiration.

"He was very blase, though," Foti said, "So I made up my mind to be a 'somebody.'"

Getting to be a "somebody" developed into a task enthusiastically approached by the whimsical musician.

HE BLAZED A trail from Chicago, New York and points East, turned west to Denver and landed

The next meeting will be on Thursday, Feb. 23.

Tip to Prisoners

BOSTON (AP)—Ball-point pen fillers can be used to open handcuffs, the Massachusetts state police have discovered. "If the ball-point filler is split and a lip turned out it then can be inserted in the keyhole and the enterprising prisoner can unlock the handcuffs," reported the department's magazine.

Nettie Malaer Rites to Be Held at Forest Lawn

Funeral services for Mrs. Nettie Malaer, 85, 432 East Andreas Road, will be conducted in the Church of the Reformation at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, with the Rev. Roy Ruth, pastor of the Downey Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will follow in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, with Wiefels and Son Mortuary of Palm Springs in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Malaer died at 3:30 a.m., Sunday, Feb. 17, at her home, after being ill for some time.

A native of Illinois, she had been a resident of Palm Springs for 10 years, and of California for 33 years.

Survivors include three sons, Edward of Downey, Oscar of Puente, and Rupert of Palm Springs; four daughters, Mrs. Elsie Powell, Mrs. Eula Roe and Mrs. Gail B. Thompson, all of Palm Springs, and Mrs. Lillian Calef of San Gabriel; 14 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Carpenter Rites Conducted Monday at Forest Lawn

Private funeral services were held yesterday at the Wee-Kirk-of-the-Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for Newell U. Carpenter, who was a resident of Palm Springs for many years.

He maintained a winter home here until some years back when he sold it and moved to Santa Monica, but he and Mrs. Carpenter continued to maintain their legal residence here and always spent their winters here.

Carpenter, 57, who died on Friday at Santa Monica Hospital, was a retired banker from Portland, Ore. He leaves his widow, Idamae and a granddaughter, Mrs. Barbara Greene Phillips.

VICTORY OVER POLIO
NOT YET REALIZED

Because the March of Dimes campaign here in Palm Springs has been lagging rather badly this year, it is thought some people have the idea that, because of the immunizing power of Salk vaccine, there is not as great a need for help any more.

This is, of course, far from true. The battle against polio will be won only when mass vaccinations have wiped out the epidemics and the last polio victim has been restored to a useful life in society.

The results of the Salk vaccine are, however, mighty encouraging; and leading authorities are confident that the vaccine is 90 per cent effective if administered in the full course of three inoculations, properly spaced.

About 16,000 persons fell victims of polio last year; this was a drop of 50 per cent from the previous year. It was a drop of 58 per cent from the previous five-year average. But it will take shots for 97,000,000 people (through age 35) to eliminate epidemic polio. This is such a big task there are bound to be many more victims this year.

Don't Let Down Now

There are still some 80,000 patients disabled by previous polio epidemics who need the kind of care which is financed from March of Dimes funds. For patients aid alone this year, the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has budgeted $15,700,000.

So people who have been generous in the past are urged not to let down when victory is within sight. It will take more time and money but the discovery of Salk vaccine has brought new hope to millions that their children may be spared this crippling disease.

This would be a good year to give a gift in thanksgiving.

CANCER AND HEART
FUNDS IMPORTANT, TOO

These national campaigns sort of bunch-up on us at this time of year. There is the American Red Cross . . . the Heart fund and the Cancer fund. The Palm Springs Community Chest is still short of its goal and we are the ONLY people who give to this support of six local agencies. Then there's the Jewish Relief fund with an appeal that tugs at the heart strings.

And the financing of a new building for the Desert Museum, so badly needed, will have to be undertaken by local citizens and winter visitors. We can't look elsewhere for assistance for this important local project.

People will feel that they are being hit pretty hard; but they must realize that these campaigns are only annual affairs (except the Museum building fund) and just happen to come close together. They couldn't be undertaken in the summer.

Some residents may favor one or the other but, for the most part, people like to help with each cause as much as they can. They just have to realize how fortunate they are to be living in a free and prosperous land. Americans are the most generous people on earth—always willing to help one another.

So—when asked for a contribution to one of these causes—pause a moment to reflect on your good fortune of being an American . . . a Californian . . . a resident of this wonderful community of Palm Springs. It will help you be a little more generous . . . because you have so much for which you can be thankful.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Socialism in the Chimney

WASHINGTON, D.C.—If Edgar Allan Poe's famous story "The Telltale Heart" can be rewritten a little, its modern version might go:

"In 1953 the new Administration bumped off the Fair Deal with its belief that a welfare state requires a controlled economy. The Administration sealed up the Fair Deal's body in an unused White House chimney, and went its way of economic freedom from wage-price-rent materials control. But by 1957 a strange thump-thump-thump was heard from the sealed-up chimney. Horrors! The Fair Deal is still alive. Listen to that Telltale Heart!"

YOU WOULDN'T expect the President to retell the story quite in those terms, but in his own words he has said approximately the same thing. How to tell the American people that the brakes aren't working on the runaway prosperity? How to get across the idea that the fuse of the high-tax, high-spending dynamite is sizzling? How to explain that welfare-for-everybody is not "free" but costs a barrel of money?

How, in short, to break the news gently that the Fair Deal, although walled away out of sight, had never left the White House and might soon reappear—ration books, frozen profits, fixed wages, planned construction and all?

THESE FORMIDABLE matters of how-to, I am now told, were subtly set in motion some while ago. There was the "tight money" policy on borrowing. There was the President's State of the Union message, addressed principally to the perils of inflation and cautioning Business and Labor to slow up on profits and wages.

There was the recent warning at a White House press conference that price-wage controls were in the offing. And there is the unanimous Administration attitude of "Cuit it if you can!" regarding the $72 billion budget with its welfare plums, for you and me.

The Administration, a would-be and self-accused assassin of the Fair Deal, appears to have gone through successive phases of mind. First, with the $10 billion cut in the Truman budget and a gratifying slice in taxes, came pride and pleasure in the deed. Then, as the Truman billions-for-welfare commenced to be restored, there was the feeling that buried-alive socialism existed within a Republican regime.

TERROR AND DISMAY must have been among the interim emotions, but the one which possesses the like-backers today seems to be fatalism. There is a chins-up, stiff-upper-lip acceptance of the welfare budget and its consequences. Whatever will be, will be. That which cannot be altered, must be endured. Where economic controls are inevitable, relax and enjoy them.

This sort of fatalism is to be heard today by Administration apologists. They acknowledge that they are faced with a condition, not a theory of Government. They would prefer ideal solutions, but are forced to settle for realistic ones. An Ike-backing Senator with a good deal of inside knowledge summarizes the Administration like this:

1. MILITARY defense, which comprises more than half the Federal budget, has been stabilized at around $38.5 billion. Had the Democrats, with their "crash" programs on air power, been in command, there is no telling where defense expenditures would be. So give the Eisenhower Administration some credit for leveling off on this plateau. Without a fairly stable Pentagon budget, the Federal budget would be far above $72 billion.

2. American psychology for self-improvement is the true cause of personal and public spending. The people and their government have long been willing to go into debt to purchase better living conditions. In most cases the buy-on-credit plans have worked well, keeping the consumer and the manufacturer at full production.

THE SPENDING and the borrowing by 1957 have admittedly soared too high, but it is too late to change that. A deflation of the dollar would mean that debtors would have to repay their loans at higher rates. The Administration is doing the right thing by trying to prevent further inflation, first by an appeal for voluntary price-wage freezes; next, if necessary, by Government controls.

3. Communist aggression is an inflationary pressure that will be with us far past this present generation. The entire free world, not just the USA, must contribute money, materials and manpower to combat Communism.

THE EISENHOWER Administration is trying in West Europe, in the Middle East and in Southeast Asia to get the native countries to build up their own military and economic defenses against the Reds. Free world cooperation offers the long-term hope that the USA can some day reduce its spending.

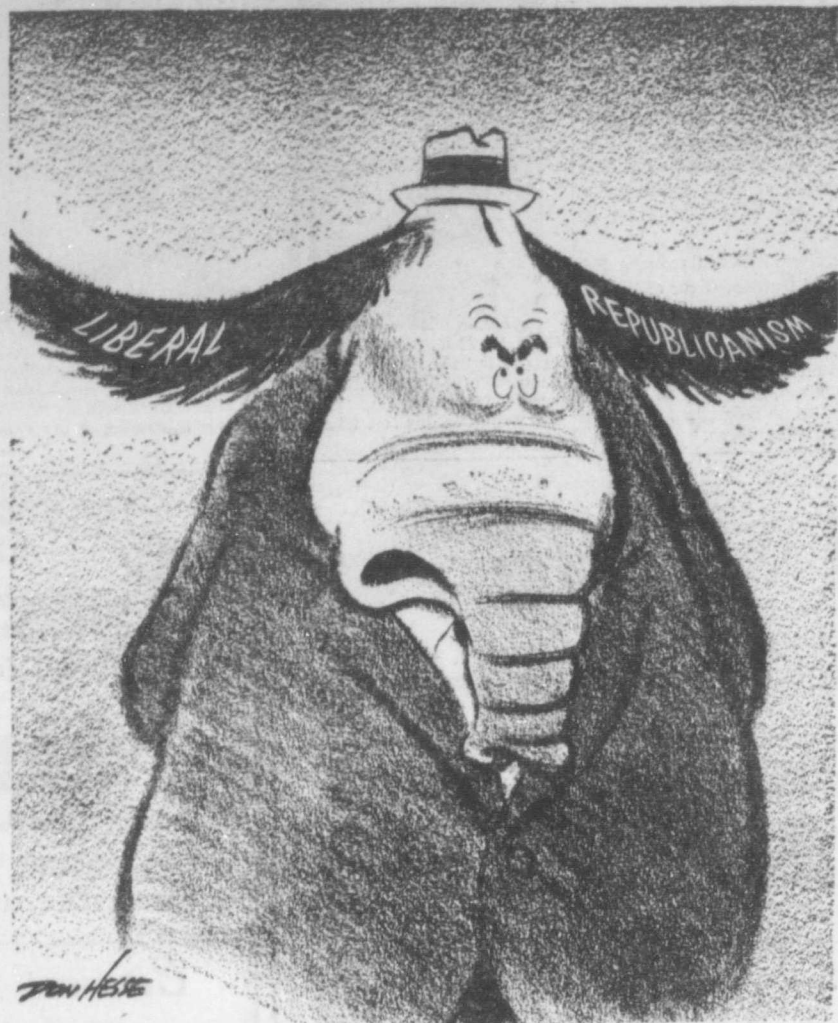

And meanwhile? The Administration has stopped promising to cut spending, slice taxes and give the country back to private enterprise. Fatalism toward bag budgets is the order of the day. And the telltale heart of immured socialism will not be stilled.

ENDS OF OPPRESSION

(Port Huron, Mich., Times Herald)

Every government of oppression that has existed on this earth has been drowned in the blood of its victims. There is no reason to expect that Russia will not meet the same fate.

'I Feel Like a Jackass'

THIS SIDE of The Sun
By Phat

The traffic toll is like the weather. All that's done is to Tsk, Tsk and talk. We'd be doing a whole lot better if we learned how to drive and to walk.

But, like we quit talking about the weather and did something about it—air conditioning—looks as if we were finally going to do something about the terrible traffic toll.

THEREFORE, it would be smart to get back of the Palm Springs Safety Council of which Don Miller is chairman. For they are going to do something about it. They are preparing a campaign of education for drivers. To impress upon them safety rules and the need for constant observation of them.

Engineers have done all they can, safeguarding the highways and the automobiles. That starts at the top. The Council is starting at the bottom—person behind the wheel upon whom, after all safety depends.

DRIVERS of public conveyances, trains, buses, airplanes, and the like, have to undergo rigid tests before they can take over. But anyone, unless totally incapacitated, can get a license to drive an auto.

And the lives of as many people as are in the care of the drivers of public conveyances, depend on their skill and knowledge of the rules.

So the work of the Safety Council is important and deserves your support. They are planning to do something to reduce the toll which took almost 40,000 lives in the nation last year.

CHIEF A. G. KETTMANN of the Police Department, points out that he and his staff are happy that there has been some reduction in traffic mishaps here but adds that there is still much room for improvement. He reminds Villagers that extra caution is needed here because of our peculiar situation. There are only three main north and south streets and in the residential areas, no sidewalks.

Also, there are many people here from outside states where traffic rules are different.

HOWEVER, traffic safety isn't up to motorists alone. The pedestrian has a responsibility, too. Automobiles don't drive on sidewalks. Pedestrians, therefore, should use highways sparingly, they have to cross them. But when they do, they should stick to crosswalks, meant for them. And where there are no sidewalks, realize that they can stop or step aside quicker than an automobile.

And Chief Kettmann said that when in crosswalks, do not put all of your faith in the white lines. Be sure and be with us tomorrow.

BEFORE I jab the final period on today's traffic tirade, let me urge you again to get behind the Safety Council. With their plan of continually reminding you of safety rules, they can do a lot toward saving your life and the lives of those dear to you. Don't just give them lip service. Listen to their safety lessons. For, after all, it COULD happen to you. Remember, as Dan Revello says, "It's pretty hard for a person to curb his temper and his car at the same time in a small parking space."

INEZ ROBB:

Rally Round, Sniffers

Once more I am forced to express my complete lack of confidence in a civilization that can perfect a hydrogen bomb, an atomic submarine and an electric toothbrush and is yet unable to alleviate, much less cure, the common cold.

In 5,000 years, man's sole worthwhile advance in the care and treatment of the common cold is the invention of the paper handkerchief. That is something, all right, but it ain't enough.

As I tossed on my bed of pain last week, hors de combat via the common cold, there came to me in the dark hours—as my head throbbed, my eyes watered, my nose dripped and bells rang continuously in my aching ears—the thought that there is one perfect cure for the ailment.

THIS REMEDY is the oven treatment, and it's permanent. Just stick the jangling noggin in the oven and turn on the gas. The only thing that prevented me from such therapy in the crisis was the fact that I was too miserable to make the journey from bedroom to kitchen.

Nor did it improve my spirits, my disposition or my faith in science to read, during convalescence, the latest article on the cause and treatment of the common cold. The article simply said, in 5,000 words, what you and I already know: That there isn't anything that science and medicine really know about the common cold either.

This article wound up with a conclusion that you and I reached years ago, to-wit: That nothing we do for a cold is apt to affect it one way or another, either by taking aspirin or quarts of fruit juice or gallons of bourbon or a carload of vitamins, before or during the cold.

OH, THIS IS going to make a lot of persons fighting mad, particularly those who grow citrus fruit, manufacture aspirins, compound vitamins or stir up sour mash. But that's what the article said.

However, it also added that if the victim of a cold thinks he is aided by vitamins, aspirin, fruit juice or bourbon, then he probably will feel better (it's mental, honey) if he indulges in his favorite cold nostrum. "There is nothing good or bad, but thinking makes it so," and that goes for cold cures.

There's not an American but knows the dreary statistics to the effect that the common cold costs the nation billions annually and accounts for more absenteeism in business and industry than all other ailments put together, including mid-summer baseball-itis.

YET, TO THE LAYMAN, the only break-through by science is the paper handkerchief. Never a year passes but we read that some new cold serum or vaccine is being tried on a group of volunteer human guinea pigs. It is always hailed as the greatest, and that's the last you and I ever heard of it.

Only a year or so ago I was planning to break into jail to receive the benefits of a cold vaccine widely touted in the press. With the blessing of the U. S. Department of Health, this vaccine was being tried on a group of lucky volunteers in the penitentiaries of the great states of Ohio and Maryland. It was supposed to be a dilly and a cure-all.

SINCE THAT INITIAL burst of publicity, I haven't heard tell of this specific. In the interim, another dozen have been announced and then never heard of again. One of 'em was being tried on Army volunteers, and I toyed with the idea of enlisting.

In America, science says it does the difficult (the H-bomb) at once, but that the impossible (a cold cure) takes a little longer. Gentlemen, time's a-wastin'.

Have you ever met this fellow Leo Athans, general manager for Lincoln Mercury here in Palm Springs?

We believe he is worthwhile talking about because under his leadership, sales management and erudite manner of speaking which he does with great sincerity and eagerness that seems to flow from a bottomless well of energy, he has lifted the Palm Springs Lincoln-Mercury dealership into a realm where it is recognized as one of the foremost automobile agencies in this country.

WE DO NOT MEAN that the Palm Springs Lincoln-Mercury agency sells as many cars as some of the dealers do in metropolitan areas, and it does in some cases by the way, but in a city the size of Palm Springs this automobile dealership has accomplished an outstanding job to bring about national recognition.

Al Siroff who is the co-owner of the dealership, is a superb salesman also. He reminds us of a bouncing ball constantly on his toes and moving, but there is one thing he will not do and that is to interfere with the operational management of Leo Athans.

WE THOUGHT this automobile agency was worthy of mentioning in this column by virtue of the terrific job it has done in the sale of automobiles, and the growing employment of people on its staff which in turn adds considerably to the economy of this city.

AFTER MY MANY years as a newspaper reporter, I learn for the first time that it is the little woman behind the man who wears the badge who is responsible for the effectiveness of our law enforcement agencies.

This knowledge was gained at the ninth annual Riverside County Peace Officers' Association of Riverside County, at the Palm House Thursday night.

EARL WILSON:

Cool with Commercials

NEW YORK — Julia Meade fearlessly spits TV commercials to 80,000,000 people a week, earning $150,000 a year with her glibness—but one guy leaves her tongue-tied.

That's baseball star Ted Williams.

"I always thought he was the coolest and wanted to meet him," Julia told me. "I knew a girl who knew him and we had a plot for about two years. She would get him to call me. Lo and behold, one day I did get a ring when I was out—I should call Ted Williams at the Commodore."

"I did, and fortunately, he wasn't in!"

JULIA GOT MARRIED, but the crush persisted and her husband understood.

"I also gave him permission to have dinner with Garbo if she ever asks him," Julia explained to me. "Well, one night he was going to be on 'What's My Line?' and it was arranged with some friends who were going to dinner with him that I should go along."

"But I couldn't do it. It seemed too fraudulent and I kept wondering, 'What if he thinks I'm dull? He did send me his autograph, though.'"

"So the big romance between you and Ted Williams is over?" I asked.

"I guess so," sighed Julia.

EVIDENTLY JULIA, who's blond, beautiful, shapely, and a Yankee fan, fears nobody else—not even Sundays on the Ed Sullivan show or her trips to what she calls "Mecca," by which she means Detroit, where her sponsors' cars are made.

"With dogs and spoon-players and bands you have on the Sullivan show, you could very easily get nervous," Julia said. "So I spend Sunday trying to keep calm, not seeing anybody, not talking too much. I rarely go out Saturday night; so I feel good."

"I'VE BEEN STUDYING the 3-minute script since Friday. My husband cues me on it. When I go to the rehearsal at 6:15, I don't really need any rehearsal. I know it as well as I can, and that saves me from being nervous."

"I've had no tragedies so far. Once recently my dress got caught in a car door on the air. I just stopped a second and took my dress out. Nobody mentioned it."

Julia's also the saleslady on Playhouse 90—and this leaves the young lady who's acclaimed as one of Broadway's best new actresses little time for stage acting.

She thanks her husband, Worsham Rudd, a commercial artist, and her mother Caroline Meade, a former actress now teaching drama at Oklahoma Baptist University, for all the help they've given her in perfecting her diction and her memory of scripts.

"FLUFFS AREN'T too serious," Julia said. "Everybody likes them but the sponsors."

THE EVENT WAS held to honor the "Little Woman" who stays at home, sometimes wondering where her officer husband may be. And she knows too, according to Chief of Police August Kettmann of the Palm Springs Police Department which played host to all of the visiting members of the sheriff's office, and police officers from many cities in Riverside County.

"The wife understands our job as well as we do," said the Chief. "She knows that on many an occasion we are held during long hours of the day and night at tasks which have to be finished before we can come home. Without her patient understanding quite often the duties we have to perform would be doubly difficult."

UKIE SHERIN of Zanzibis kept the lawmen and their wives roaring with laughter before he had to depart for the Valentine Ball at El Mirador, where he with Phil Harris on the drums kept the huge crowd there greatly amused.

Got a kick out of Mayor Florian Boyd at the graduation exercises held for 18 fledgling stewards at a luncheon and champagne party hosted by Western Air Lines. There were 18 citizens of Palm Springs who sponsored each of the new stewards. Said Mr. Boyd when he arose:

"I never saw so many old goats having such a fine time in the City of Palm Springs." Obviously he forgot to include the speaker who also headed each of the beautiful young things her diploma and pinned wings on her jacket. But that wasn't all! The Mayor also kissed his charming stewardess. Old goats! Of all the nerve!

UKIE BROKE with this one: "Don't smoke in bed. The ashes that fall to the floor may be you." Ooh, I'll never do that again.

"Sometimes I repay my husband for his help by acting as his model."

"If he doesn't want to run out and get a model for some little thing, he says, 'Come here for a minute—hold this cup for me.' When I 'do, he complains. He says 'Oh, you're terrible.' So I get very wifely-like and say, 'Why did you ask me? I HATE being a model!'"

And so they live happily ever after—the modeling and the commercials.

"DON'T PRINT THAT!": One of the theater's boy wonders is spending so freely that he must be forgetting Uncle Sam'll be around soon for his slice . . . Singer Alan Dale, feuding with a disc jockey, refused to join his rock 'n' roll show. He said, "I wouldn't be onstage with him for $25,000!"

Moss Hart's heading for the Concord Hotel to finish writing his play . . . Art Carney and Nannette Fabry probably won't team as rumored: she likes to work in L. A., he prefers N. Y. . . Paul Newman tiffed with Ann Blyth on the Helen Morgan" set.

Joe Louis' pals are sure he'll show up for Sarah Vaughan's Birdland Concert at Carnegie Hall . . . Adm. Radford, retiring soon as head of the Joint Chiefs, was offered several college presidencies . . . Ben Gazzara, of "The Strange One," says there are just two women in his life—his mother and Elaine Stritch.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Someone saw a small portable TV set and said, "It took television engineers ten years to go from the seven-inch screen to the seven-inch screen."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Madison Av.," says Jonathan Winters, "is where they took the padding out of the shoulders and put it on 'the expense account.'"

Jack Palance's newest film, about prison, required so many retakes that a prisoner heckled Palance, "I'll be out of here before you are!" That's earl, brother.

Helen Staley, member of the Board of Education of the Palm Springs Unified School District, now returning from the National School Boards Association meeting in Atlantic City, New Jersey, said in a note to The Desert Sun today that "it was one of the most interesting meetings" that she had ever attended.

The National School Boards Association, through its membership, is responsible for almost 30 million pupils enrolled in public elementary and high schools throughout this country. More than 2,000 school board members, from every state and two Territories, met together during the 17th annual convention to examine the welfare, and map plans for the future, of America's system of free public education.

Valentin Blatz. He was knighted at the altar and received his sword. Behind follows Bishop Charles F. Buddy. On his right is the Rev. Michael R. O'Donohue and on the left Rev. Joseph Leissler. The Bishop knighted Mr. Blatz in the presence of his family, and was assisted by all of the Catholic clergy in the Palm Springs resort area. (Desert Sun Photo).

Valentin Blatz Knighted In Colorful Ceremony Here

Pageantry of the Roman Catholic Church which rolled back the curtain of time took place in Palm Springs when Valentin Blatz was knighted into the order of St. Gregory the Great, civil class, at our Lady of Solitude.

On order of His Holiness Pope Pius XII, His Excellency the Most Rev. Charles F. Buddy, D.D., presiding bishop of San Diego standing before the altar touched the right shoulder of Valentin Blatz, long time resident of Palm Springs, with the traditional sword and then sheathed the blade, thereby investing Blatz as a knight of St. Gregory the Great.

THE NEW SIR Valentin Blatz then had a medal of the order pinned on his uniform by Mrs. Blatz. All members of the Blatz family were present at the Mass and witnessed the ceremonial rites. They were Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Matt, Oconomowoc, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. John W. McCoy, formerly of Palm Springs and now of Hillsborough, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Doucette, Chicago, Ill.; Venerable Sister Mary Judith, O.P. Dominican Convent Mission of San Jose and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valentin Blatz; and Paul A. Blatz, Creighton University, Omaha, Neb.

A colorful procession preceded the knighting, led by a censor bearer, processional cross and acolytes, The Rev. Thomas J. Flahive, second master of ceremonies, the clergy, the Right Rev. ### $700 Wristwatch Loss Reported

A Palm Springs visitor told police today she lost a $700 diamond-studded wristwatch in the resort during the weekend. Mrs. Ben Abrams, of 10700 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, said the platinum-cased watch bore the inscription "From Ben to Ann."

New College Students Lack Study Technique

KENT, O.—(AP)—Loren S. Hadley, director of student advising at Kent State University, said few students entering college know how to study.

"This includes even top high school students," he said. Hadley said that most students are poor readers, do not know how to take notes and have never taken an exam in which they had to do more than pick the right answer. He recommended that college students spend most of the daylight hours studying and save the "favorite" subject for study at night.

Area Anti-Litter Drive Termed 'Test' Ground

A national anti-litter campaign official has proclaimed Palm Springs as a valuable "testing" ground, potentially capable of influencing the country's entire cleanup program.

In a brief visit with local anti-litterbug officials, John C. Rose, executive director of "Keep America Beautiful, Inc.," of New York, singled out the resort area as a zone of "strategic importance."

ROSE, ONE OF the ranking officials of the National Public Service Organization for the Prevention of Litter, sponsors of K.A.B., explained that many executives of the nation's leading corporations reside or visit regularly in the resort city.

He pointed out that local anti-litter activities may make a deep impression on these individuals, who will carry the enthusiasm propelling desert cleanup activities away to other areas.

MANY OF THESE same individuals, he added, are members of "Keep America Beautiful" and are constant contributors to the national campaign.

Rose met with John Van Pelt, county cleanup coordinator, and Mrs. Gloria Gillette, representing the Agua Caliente Indians on the newly organized Desert Beautiful Association.

The national cleanup executive surveyed the local program and made a few recommendations for the resort anti-litter officials.

HE ADVISED THE desert group to secure municipal authority, launch a campaign for local volunteers and urged group action. Rose also recommended the making of a "litter survey, picking out the biggest blighted areas, and a litter map."

Rose stressed the importance of education, pointing out that schools are an important theater of operation.

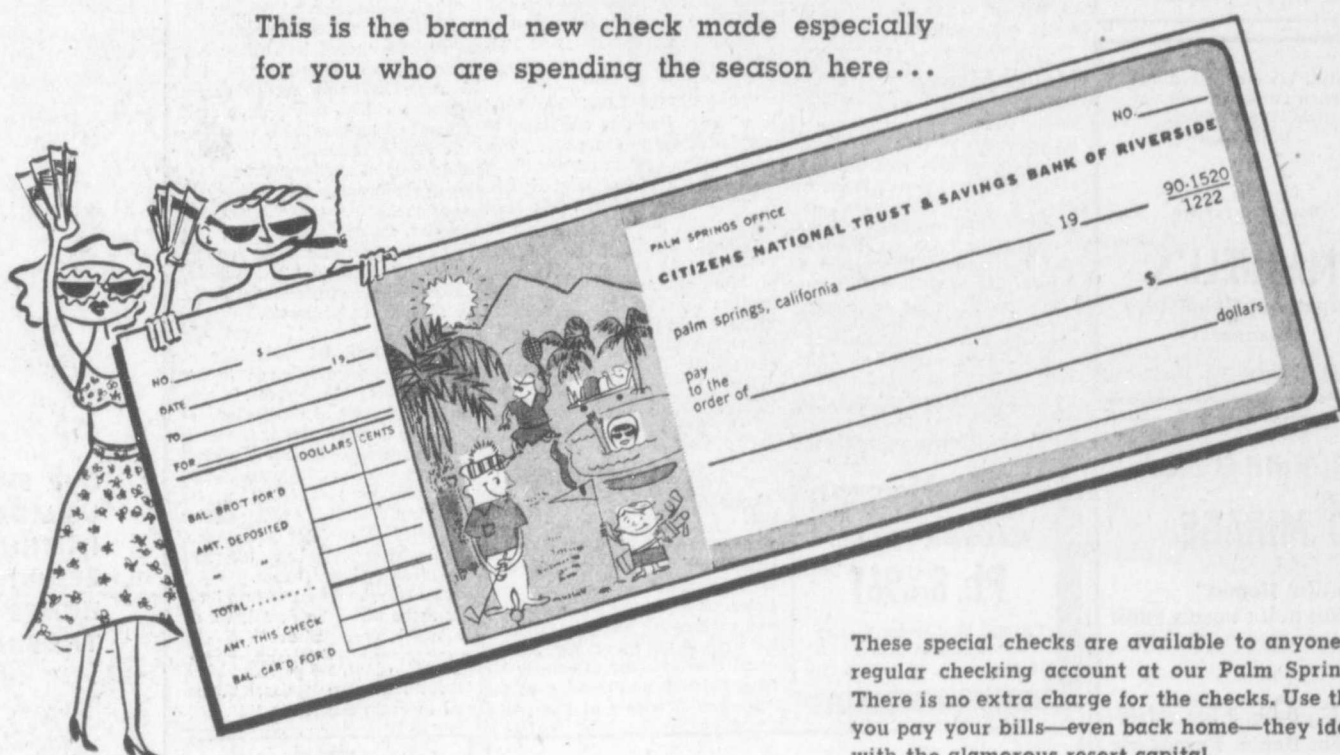

"Teach the children the importance of ending the 'throw-away habit,' and they will, in turn, teach their parents," he said.

By JEAN PATANE
During the past month three guests of Greene's Desert Lodge, formerly B-Glad Manor, have been honored at Coronation Night dinners held each Monday night at Shadow Mountain Club. On Jan. 14, Mrs. Richard Cowell, who with her husband has been enjoying the desert for the past few months from Peace River Canada, was Princess. On Jan. 21, Mrs. Mary Greene was Queen, and on Feb. 11, the King was Mr. J. Lou Hart.

here with his wife from San Mateo and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Hart of Los Angeles.

Other guests include Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Barrett of Dillon, Mont., Mr. and Mrs. J. Mac D. Anderson of Long Beach; Mrs. Olsen of Gray's Lake, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Benson from Chicago.

The Braemar Model Apartment, decorated by Vee Nisley of Vee Nisley Interiors, is now open for inspection.

Frank Breiding is now at the Breidings store in Los Angeles and spends the weekends in Rancho Mirage while Mrs. Breiding manages their desert store, the Wilshire Awning and Furniture.

The home at 71-606 Mirage Road was purchased under the name of Sierra Club Distributing Company by the firm's president, Otis C. Riley and his two sons-in-law, vice president Robert Whelan and Ralph D. Williams. The new owners are making extensive improvements in the landscaping around the Hoams built pool.

Grant Turnquist, well known churchman in Los Angeles, and Mrs. Turnquist were at Nelson's Motel for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eurengy are now enjoying their new home on Tunis Road. Mrs. Eurengy is a realtor operating under the name of Marian Moulton in the Morongo Valley area.

Enjoying the weekend at their recently purchased desert home on San Geronimo were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Surtees. Mr. Surtees is associated with M-G-M Studios in Culver City.

Negotiations are now under way for the purchase of one of the many coves in Rancho Mirage, for the erection of a deluxe French restaurant and cottage type units.

Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Udall hosted a patio barbecue at their home on Magnesia Falls Drive, having as their guests Mrs. Dorothy Parsons, her children

Susan and Johnny, and her mother, Mrs. Harry Wall, who recently returned from a month in Honolulu visiting with Dorothy's brother, George and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig of Encino purchased an income site on San Geronimo and will build units immediately. Also planning to build in the near future are Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Kurzon, who purchased a homesite on Mirage Road. The Kurzons are from Los Angeles.

Guesting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Orewiler were Mr. and Mrs. Glade Turner of Toledo, Ohio, Lt. John Turner and wife, who are stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. T. Richard Nelson of Los Angeles.

Among the guests at the Sun Dial are Thurston Jordan, postmaster of Sky Forest, in the San Bernardino Mountains near Lake Arrowhead, and John Adams, well known cartoonist and owner of the Sky Forest Hotel. Also enjoying a few days of relaxation were George Halvorson, factory representative of the Schlag Lock Company.

Betty and Gene Eldridge, owners of the popular Sun Dial, with their sons, Arthur and Lynn, will be down from Beverly Hills this coming weekend.

Included in the many guests enjoying their holiday in the desert at the Desert Holiday Hotel Apartments, are the parents of co-owner Laddie Svoboda, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Mejia of Chicago, here for two months. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole are here from their home in Shelton, Wash., for an extended visit, and last week a group of Army helicopter pilots spent several days while en route from El Paso, Texas, to their home base in Stockton.

Nation is Well Represented at Desert Air Hotel

Among the guests at Desert Air Hotel from the North and East enjoying the many attractions of the desert are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Frawley of Ojai; Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson of Fargo, N.D.; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gassner, here from Glenview, Ill.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Bamed Mauk of Bellevue, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. John Orighi and Mr. and Mrs. Monty Jacobs of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Harvey Wall of Chelan, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Henderson of Hillsborough, Calif.

Desert Villa Sale Announced

Osborne Realty Company of Rancho Mirage and Lake Tahoe, specializing in sales and exchanges announces the sale of Desert Villa Lodge in Palm Desert. Both buyer and seller were represented by Roy A. Grayson, in charge of the Rancho Mirage office.

Michael B. Osborne, established in the Lake Tahoe resort area for the past 14 years, in announcing the sale, said that he is happy to be serving in the development of the fast and fabulous growth of the desert communities.

Mouse Money

STREATOR, Ill. — Tavern-keeper Nick Kutch said some of his customers sit on the beer cooler and money falls from their pockets and lodges between the cooler and the wall. This wasn't discovered until a mouse began dragging the coins out from behind the cooler. Kutch said he doesn't plan to disturb the mouse—he's waiting for the paper money to appear.

In the background is the smog chamber, used in experiments to find ways to prevent smog damage to crops and plants.

Warmth, Love of State Reflected In Paintings of Melvin D. Bearden

By DEENIE YOUNG
The warmth of California sunshine has crept into the always technically skilled paintings of Melvin D. Bearden, whose 50 or more canvases of desert flowers, dunes and mountains, are currently on display at the Desert Art Gallery in Rancho Mirage.

One of the painters selected to demonstrate at the "Artists in Action" display at the Riverside Date Festival in Indio this week, Bearden said today as I chatted with him in the patio of his combination gallery and home on Highway 111, "I've spent some 30 years looking for the best desert to paint and I consider this one the finest in America."

ALERT AND DYNAMIS with quick moving eyes which seem to take in many things at once Bearden added that the desert because of its variety and size was also a challenge to the painter. "Here the colors are more subtle and harder to see than the cold blues, grays and strong greens up north," he said. "Here, there's no discord anywhere and harmony everywhere."

Winter residents since 1947, Bearden and his wife, Claire (who is a creditable still-life painter in her own right) purchased the Desert Art Gallery two years ago from the late Carl Herman of Riverside and now spend their winters in the charming old-world Spanish residence, while summer finds them in their Washington home, located on the long salty arm of the Pacific Ocean—the Hood Peninsula.

"IT SOUNDS LIKE an ideal life," Mrs. Bearden explained as she joined us in the patio. "Six months here and six months there. But like the life of most artists, it wasn't always ideal. At least not for Melvin."

Although Bearden exhibits extensively both in his adopted state of Washington and in the Palm Springs area, where, in addition to his own gallery, his work may be viewed at the Desert Art Center and the Desert Magazine, he claims only a smattering of professional training.

"The rest I've had to dig out of good old Mother Nature," he said. "She's your best teacher anyhow."

ONE OF SEVEN children born into a South Carolina family of extremely modest circumstances, he spent his boyhood midst the ruins of the ante-bellum plantation era. Later, as a young man, struggling and earning his bread in Chicago, he worked nights at any job he could find, in order to employ his days painting and drawing at the American Academy of Fine Arts.

After studying in Pittsburgh with the noted artist, Marcus Moran, he lived and painted on the Hawaiian Islands until a period of ill-health brought him back to the Mainland, where in Washington he met and married Mrs. Bearden.

"The natural course of events placed us in the resort business," Mrs. Bearden explained in answer to my question. "It was the only work where my husband would have leisure and time to paint."

CIRCUMSTANCES KEPT them in the hotel business for 20 years of married life until their fortunes rose and climaxed with the purchase of the "Clar-Mel" resort on Hoods Canal in 1939. With the sale of this hostelry, they acquired "Rest-While," a second swimming and fishing motel of 18 cabins and with the funds realized from this venture, they bought their present shore-side home.

"Now one of the main reasons we go back to Washington each year," Mr. Bearden smiled, "is to be with our eight grandchildren."

In addition to their two sons engaged in the logging business in Hoodport, the Beardens have a daughter who is also an artist, living in Tacoma.

"ANOTHER REASON we go back to Washington," he added as an after thought but with twinkling eyes, "is the trout and salmon fishing."

The manipulation of the dry fly is a second art that Bearden likes to practice though he said he has been painting regularly on the Olympic Peninsula for 20 years, since he and his wife took up residence in Hoodport.

Exhibiting annually at the Puyallup Fair of western Washington, he has also painted extensively in Jackson Hole, the Yellowstone country, Canada and Florida, and has numerous following among lovers of painting of Mt. Rainier, Lake Chelan and the glacial peaks of the eastern peninsula.

LAST WEEK in recognition of Bearden's accomplishment in his chosen field, Vic Meyers, secretary of the State of Washington, invited the couple to act as traveling ambassadors to publicize Washington as a summer playground. The plan provides them with a De Luxe trailer and all expenses paid. Queried as to their acceptance, the Beardens replied that they had not made up their minds.

"We love the desert and we have our home here. So even if we do go, we'll surely return."

A total of 894, 575 persons visited Mount Rushmore National Memorial in South Dakota in 1956.

Coachella Valley Youth Selected As Fair Pianist

Eddy Dominguez, of Indio, has been chosen from all the Coachella Valley area pianists to be the pianist for the Riverside County and National Date Festival in Indio, which will run through Feb. 24.

Dominguez, who will enter High School next fall, has now been selected to play for the pageant at the Date Festival three successive seasons. Consuelo Reyes, Spanish dancer, was entranced when she heard him play for the Arabian Pageant last year, and engaged him to act as her accompanist while on tour.

Alan Kopelson, of Palm Springs and Beverly Hills, is young Dominguez' instructor, and feels that this young artist will be one of the greatest pianists in the country.

Woman's Club To Meet Feb. 20

The Cathedral City Woman's Club will hold its February luncheon meeting at Wonder Palms Hotel on Wednesday Feb. 20, starting at 12:30 p.m.

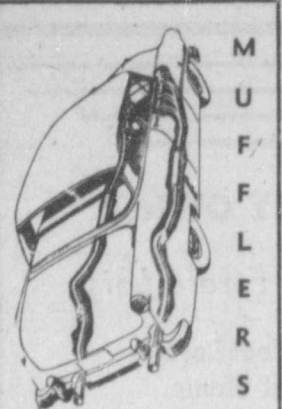

A book review by Warner Moon, Cathedral City librarian, will highlight the program.

Cornell University's 10,700 students come from 48 states and 70 foreign countries.

Film Showing To Be Wednesday

At the monthly potluck dinner being held Wednesday, Feb. 20, at the Cathedral City Community Church, the film made by Danny Kaye on his tour visiting the children of the world, will be shown.

The first European to enter the Indian pueblo of Zuni, in western New Mexico, was the Moorish slave Estevan, who came to New Mexico in 1539 with the Franciscan friar Marcos de Niza.

Palm Desert

By GRETCHEN CHESEMAN

Mr. and Mrs. George Caldwell of Santa Paula and Col. and Mrs. A. Cadwell of Los Altos spent a few days in the desert. The Caldwell brothers attended Rotary at Shadow Mountain Club on Friday and attended the Tennis Matches.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fithian will entertain Bob's father over the weekend. There will be a birthday celebration. Mr. Fithian, Sr., will celebrate his 90th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews, Jr., spent a short time in the Andrews' Sun Lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Peyton of Spokane, Wash., are Sun Lodge visitors and will be here several weeks. Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Howard of North Hollywood are spending weekends here for the month. Mr. and Mrs.

Essery are also spending a few days here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Barnes of Idyllwild, formerly Palm Desert residents spent two days here last week enjoying some of their old friends.

The Palm Desert Woman's club are busy ladies these days getting all plans in order for the Annual Fashion Show to be given at Shadow Mountain Club. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 followed by the Fashion Parade. Mrs. John Morgan will be in charge of a cocktail apron booth and Mrs. Robert Coates and Mrs. Howard Ellgood will do the decorations. Everyone should get their tickets early, so as not to be disappointed as many were last time. Mrs. M. Merryman, Palm Desert 76-5171, is in charge of reservations. The funds raised by this affair will be used for worthy community projects, especially Palm Desert Community House and Library.

Seen enjoying the food at Angelo's Palm Desert Inn this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Desi Arnez with the Frank Bogarts and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carlson, Ray Corliss and Harry Oliver, Mrs. Joan Farris from Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McQuire from Saskatoon, Canada, Mrs. Peg Gibson and daughters with Jane Powers, daughter of Lt. Governor Powers, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marrill, who are in charge of the Indio Horse show.

Mrs. Charles Wilder and Mrs. Joseph A. Sprinkle left the desert a few days ago after a two week visit in Butler, Pa. They will visit in Los Angeles a week or so with Miss Sarah Ritter and Elizabeth McPhie.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fredhold entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Shafer and their son, John, and Walter White, a fraternity brother of John Shafer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Bosch and Mr. and Mrs. James N. Godsell hosted a buffet supper Saturday night, in their new home in Shadow Mountain Park, on the Club grounds. Mr. Bosch and Mrs. Godsell are brother and sister. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fredhold, Mrs. Charlotte Steward, Commander S. A. Hodger and Mrs. Olga Sulkes.

Mrs. Refa Deaton and Mrs. Henry Cheeseman spent the week in San Francisco visiting with old friends.

"Coronation" night at Shadow Mountain Club Monday night was filled to capacity. The queen was Mrs. Jalene Keate from Vancouver, B. C., the King was Lou Hart of San Mateo, the Princess Mrs. Carl Henderson of Palm Desert and the Prince Lt. Col. Westfield of Mecca.

Bob Hanson, who has been here for 10 days, will fly East on Sunday. Mrs. Hanson will stay another week and then join him, either at their Maryland farm or in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Wright entertained at Shadow Mountain Club Mr. and Mrs. H. Fred Brunsell of Evansville, Wis. The Wrights and Brunsells were companions on a Mediterranean cruise and visited the Holy Land, Cairo and near East points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Lutz of Los Altos and Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Schroeder of San Francisco spent this past week at the Adobe. Mrs. Lutz, under the pen-name of Gertrude May Lutz, writes poetry. A book of her poems has just been published.

Brunching on the Terrace at Shadow Mountain Club on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sergeant, Helen Roberts, the Ed Gardner and party, May Hanson (Mrs. Bob), and guests, the Forrest Whites, Mrs. White's daughter, Angel Matthias, the Ed Welcomes and Mrs. Joan Wyman.

Donald Novis, famous tenor, was featured at the Coronation program on Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Novis were house guests of Mrs. Bobbie Reichert.

County CofC Group Hears of Flood Control

New county-wide flood control plans were the subject of discussion today by John W. Bryant, chief engineer for the county Flood Control and Water Conservation District, at the Palm Desert meeting of the Riverside County Association of Chambers of Commerce.

The Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival, now under way at Indio, was described by Lucile E. Carnes, secretary-manager of the Indio Chamber of Commerce, at the Shadow Mountain Club luncheon meeting.

Palm Desert. CofC to Check Conventions

Possibility of securing convention business was discussed by the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce at its meeting, with the entire board of directors asked to investigate the possibilities and report back at the next meeting on Feb. 28.

At that time a coordinated plan will be formulated to make proper contacts and get adequate publicity for the starting of this formerly overlooked business, according to President Hal Kapp.

"The possibilities for developing such a business in the Palm Desert area are here," Kapp said. The group also discussed the improvement of television service in the Palm Desert area, with Leonard Lockhart pointing out that two plans are now under consideration, and a full report will be made at a future meeting.

Several directors are planning to attend the continuation of the telephone hearings in Los Angeles Thursday, conducted by the Public Utilities Commission as a continuation of hearings here.

Moyers Welcome Friends to Desert

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Moyer of Petersen's Cove and Palm Desert, were in Los Angeles over the weekend to meet their close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fay, who drove down from their home in Seattle, Wash., and returned to the desert with the Moyers.

Mr. Moyer is a well-known designer of custom built homes.

Mrs. Clay Stearns Is Recuperating

Mrs. Clay Stearns is resting comfortably in St. Vincent's Hospital in Los Angeles, following major surgery performed a week ago. Because of business commitments Mr. Stearns is compelled to remain in Palm Desert, while relatives are in touch with him daily regarding his wife's progress.

A complete recovery is anticipated and at the present time, visitors are limited to relatives.

Disney Urges Museum Support

Walt Disney, long time resident of Palm Springs, today urged visitors and citizens of Palm Springs to support the campaign to be launched Monday seeking funds for the erection of a new and larger building to house Desert Museum exhibits and for a larger auditorium.

In a radio interview to be broadcast Wednesday morning at 8:30 a.m. he revealed to Bill Rashall that one of the scenes in his "The Living Desert" was inspired by a visit to the local museum.

Over half of the assets of the University of Michigan, a state-supported school, have been obtained with funds from sources other than state appropriations.

Your Congressman Reports

By D. S. SAUND
29th Congressional District
WASHINGTON—Let's talk for a minute about the Small Business Administration, a government agency set up by Congress to help the little businessman when he needs financial help and other advice. Only if businessmen in the 29th District know how the Small Business Administration operates can they expect to take advantage of what it offers them.

The agency was created by Congress to assist owners of small concerns whose loan applications failed to meet the requirements set up by local banking and loan institutions. We are talking now primarily about long-term loans sought by businessmen. Some small businessmen are not aware of the opportunity to get loans through SBA and the banks.

SBA OFFERS TWO types of loans. One is the direct loan where the borrower gets the entire loan from Uncle Sam. The other is called a participation loan in which the agency participates or co-operates, and the local bank and SBA loan the money.

In checking the records I have discovered that some business operators in my district, entitled to financial help, might not have received the needed help because of a lack of information about the assistance available through the SBA and the banks.

THE OTHER EVENING I talked with an official of SBA and its Western Director in charge of the Los Angeles office, Donald McLarnan. McLarnan offered to come into the 29th District and appear before any interested business group to explain the meaning and purpose of the agency.

Incidentally, I understand McLarnan is an excellent speaker. Business groups in the district desiring to have him speak should contact my office. I am inviting him to be my guest at the Indio County Fair on Saturday, Feb. 23. At that time arrangements will be made for interested groups or individuals to interview him.

Reflecting the effectiveness and popularity of the SBA, the first official act of the 85th Congress was to vote an additional $80,000,000 to the agency for loan purposes. Its earlier appropriation was all but exhausted.

County Planners To Discuss Four Desert Matters

Four desert area matters will be taken up today at a special adjourned meeting of the Riverside County Planning Commission at Riverside.

Commissioners will discuss improvement standards for the county subdivision ordinance; act on an amendment on fruit and nut drying facilities and fruit and vegetable packing sheds in 1-A zones; listen to requests to open roads located in the Fourth Supervisorial district; and take under advisement a request for acceptance of Via Vail road in the Rancho Mirage-Thousand Palms area.

Hotel Zoning Is Protested

Araby Area Association members last night indicated their opposition to a change of zone application placed before the City Planning Commission by developers of a proposed guest ranch-hotel near Araby Point.

The opposition was voiced by some 14 association members in discussion of the request for change of zone from R-1, single-family residence, to hotel zoning.

The hotel application comes up for commission hearing Feb. 20, according to Mrs. Ted Griffith, association member.

Entertains At Dinner Party

Miss Isabella Charbneau entertained in her Anza Trail home with a Friday night dinner party. Guests included Countess Katja Beierholm of Copenhagen, Denmark, Dr. Benjamin Goldberg and Hans Hasslach, the impresario from Hamburg, Germany who is in Palm Springs to present his world famous spectacle, "Dancing Waters" at the Indio Date Festival.

FASCINATING ORIGINALS in hostess wear for those "at home," were featured in a poolside showing at Howard Manor Saturday. Here Chris Haskell wears a three piece chartreuse outfit with gold trim, while Mary Farmer models a red jeweled skirt and gold shawl top costume. The handmade originals were presented by Babs Crane of Phoenix in her first Palm Springs showing. (Gayle Photo).

DR. LURA OAK, noted pediatric psychologist, will address Katherine Finchy Parent-Teacher Group at their meeting at the school cafeteria tomorrow night.

Lookers Are Featured At Writers Meeting

The Lookers, Glen and Lucile, handwriting analysts were the featured entertainment at the last meeting of The Writers Guild of the Desert Art Center. Mr. and Mrs. Looker analyzed the handwriting of the members as they were given to them on cards. It was amazing to the audience to hear the Lookers read ambitions, characterizations and even love life right off of the handwriting, with almost psychoanalyzing ability. At times, Mr. Looker's amusing comments created considerable hilarity and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

At the business meeting conducted by the President Mrs. Ted Cooper, a manuscript was presented for criticism by an anonymous member and the reaction of the members proved helpful to a beginner in writing. Workshops and criticism of writing efforts will be taken up at the next meeting February 20, which will be held at the Desert Art Center. A speaker, Harriet Farnsworth will give valuable aids on the topic of "Suspense" in writing at this meeting.

An interesting report on former members was given by Mrs. Farnsworth at the last meeting on the writing market and on former members who had sold articles. She has recently had published a feature article to a magazine; Marie Hibbett had sold a juvenile article; Lou Finlson had sold a story to a Canadian magazine; and Carol Miller, a former member, is now associate editor of a newspaper in Mexico City.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

It was an interesting weekend in America's favorite desert resort . . . Beautiful weather . . . lots of people . . . and much social activity . . . ranging from fashion shows and Sunday brunches . . . to the Twilight Cocktail tea dansante . . . cocktail parties and the Austins' housewarming . . . which was so big that it wasn't possible to see much of the house . . . Celebrities were noted all over the Village . . . A noted newlywed couple came here for their honeymoon . . . and Rex Harrison and his fiancée Kay Kendall came down for a quiet weekend . . . and were the object of interest of the international press . . .

Harrison was here Friday, Saturday and Sunday as houseguest of Bing Crosby . . . and Kay week-ended at Thunderbird Country Club . . .

On Friday evening Bing gave a dinner party at Dunes for Rex and his fiancée . . . and other guests were Frank Sinatra, Jimmy Van Heusen, Terence Rattigan the playwright, and Pete Petito . . .

On Saturday night Bing hosted another dinner at Howard Manor to hear Murray Arnold . . . with Sinatra again one of the guests. . . Others in the party were Mike and Gloria Romanoff, Jimmy Van Heusen, Valerie Gould and Pete Petito . . .

After dinner the group went on to the Palm House to hear the King's Four . . . as Rex is a jazz enthusiast . . .

After spending most of Sunday on the golf course . . . Bing and most of his guests went back to Hollywood . . . but Harrison and Rattigan are out at La Quinta.

All this is of especial interest after the much publicized incident . . . when Harrison was supposed to have slapped Sinatra at a party . . . If it happened . . . there was no ill feeling evident this weekend. . . The Max Schwabs entertained at cocktails at their Smoke Tree Ranch home Friday night . . . honoring their houseguests Mr. and Mrs. E. F. F. Copp of La Jolla . . . Among the guests were the Walt Disneys . . . It was Mrs. Disney's birthday and the guests joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to her and surprised her with amusing gag gifts . . . In a way, it was also a farewell to the Disneys, who leave soon for a Caribbean tour . . .

Among the 50-some guests were the Donald Gilmores, Jack Lucarensis, Louis Pfau, Denny Grant and his niece Marjorie Pohl, Helen McCullough and the Henry Reids.

Don the Beachcomber has around 60 items on its bill of fare . . . but I'm so enamored of duck mandarin, chicken almond, chicken pineapple and won ton . . . that I've quit experimenting . . . Found that was a great error . . . when I discovered preserved papaya in its snowy bed . . .

We were there the other evening . . . with my attention divided . . . between the food, the wonderful shade of bluegreen in one of the hanging lamps in fishnets . . . and who was arriving . . . The rope was up at the door as the dining rooms were filled . . . At a nearby table was composer Rudolph Friml and his attractive wife . . . with Archie Selwyn stopping by to say something that caused laughter . . . There were others I know . . . but the food was too good . . . the lights are dim . . . and the crowd scattered through five rooms . . . Stopped to say "Hi" to Virginia Field and Willard Parker as we were leaving . . .

Out at the Racquet Club . . . we found John Haskell and Glee Griffin . . . with the Jim Harrises of London, England . . . He is the Viscount Salisbury, friend of the Duke of Edinburgh . . . They had been to visit Disneyland and Knott's Berry Farm . . . and all the sights . . . and she was sitting there ignoring the movie stars . . . and wishing to see a "real cowboy" . . . There were several movie stars around-too . . . Van Johnsons were there (Evelyn's nose bob was effective) . . . the Barry Sullivan were dancing . . . and Ginny Simms arrived with her fairly-constant escort Bernie Erskine of Phoenix . . .

Here for the weekend was John Mills of Les Ambassadors in London . . . one of Europe's best-known clubs . . . He and Bob Hope and John Haskell have been negotiating to buy the Phoenix Racquet Club . . .

Trav-and Willie Rogers went to Los Angeles Sunday to attend the party given by Eddie Bernard of the Biltmore . . . It was a farewell for Bill Gargan . . . who is flying to London to do "Martin Kane" . . . Mary and their youngest son Leslie will go over by boat in June and Bill will meet them in Lisbon, Portugal . . . and they'll motor to Madrid to visit their daughter Margaret and her husband Col. Joe Donovan (he's C.O. of the airport there) . . .

Violinist Jascha Heifitz and his wife . . . are at the Racquet Club for a fortnight's stay . . .

(Listen to Hildy Crawford, Monday through Friday at 11:30 a.m., on KDES, 920 on your dial.)

Anniversary Party in New Home

A camellia-outlined heart with a big "16" in the center, hung on the fireplace front of their Vereda Sur home Saturday night, as Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Austin entertained around 250 at a combination anniversary and housewarming party.

The Austins were actually married on Valentine's Day 16 years ago so a Valentine theme marked the decorations . . . with red hearts centering each small pane in the big front window.

A Mexican trio played for dancing in the garden and tables were set up outside by the pool for the buffet supper.

Among celebrities noted in the crowd were the Victor Rothchilds (she's Vera-Ellen), Jack Webb, Jacques Bergerac and Sy Bartlett, Ginny Simms and Bernie Erskine. Among other guests were Jack Kenastons, Walter Braunschweigers, Harry Joe Browns, Grace Pope, escorted by Alfredo de La Vega, Mason Latteau and Bob Hornstein, Elsinore Machris, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hopps, Mr. and Mrs. Trav Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hull, Mrs. Charles Farrell, Donald Stralem, the Sammy Sontags, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin, Russ Wades, Noel Clarke (Joyce is in Los Angeles), Elsa and Bill Bassichis, Mrs. Alexander Marcuse, John Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis of London, England, and dozens of others.

Lily Cohen of Tel-Aviv Is Bride of Rabbi Bloch

Rabbi Isaac E. Bloch, minister of Congregation Nove Sholom at Desert Hot Springs, formerly of Palm Springs, was married to Lily Cohen of Tel-Aviv, Israel on Tuesday evening. The marriage was solemnized at Beth Jacob in El Centro, with the officiating clergy: Rabbi Albert Plotkin, Temple Beth Israel, of Phoenix, Chaplain to Civil Air Patrol; Wing-Chaplain Richard A. Logan of Vincent Air Base at Yuma; Chaplain Spencer Madsen of Army Test Station at Yuma; Rev. Raymond C. Acheson of First Presbyterian Church of Yuma; Rev. Donald Lathrop of First Methodist Church, Yuma, representing the Yuma County Ministerial Association; Lt. George Driver of El Centro Salvation Army, representing the El Centro Ministerial Association.

Mrs. Earle M. Creamer, wife of the minister of the First Baptist Church, El Centro, was organist for the wedding, with her daughter Miss Beverly Creamer as soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by Senator Harold H. Giss of Arizona, and had as matron of honor, her sister Mrs. Rudolph Ornstein of New York. Best man was Louis Berk of Calexico, president of Congregation Beth Jacob. Bearers of the Wedding Canopy were Messrs. Sidney Barron of Los Angeles, Frank Ullman, Stanley Sierad and Alex Safr of El Centro, vice presidents of the Congregation.

Following the ceremony, a dinner honoring the bride and groom was held at Knotty Pine, El Centro, for over 150 guests representing the congregations served by Rabbi Bloch.

Senator William Beard of Imperial County introduced the guests and read the congratulatory telegrams, including a message from Congressman and Mrs. Dalip S. Saund, and Israeli Consul Raanan Sivan, Los Angeles, and from relatives and friends in England, Canada and Israel.

Rabbi Bloch is serving as Circuit Rabbi of Imperial and Yuma Counties, with congregations in Desert Hot Springs, El Centro and Yuma. He also serves as lay chaplain to the Vincent Air Base and Army Test Station at Yuma. He was the first minister of the Palm Springs Jewish Center, and was responsible for the completion of the Sanctuary, during his ministry.

His bride was an officer of the Department of Health and Social Welfare of the Government of Israel, and did a great deal of work with crippled and under-privileged children.

They will commute between El Centro and Palm Springs.

Guests from this area attending the ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Pickering and son Malcolm, Mrs. Emma Spector and Mrs. J. H. Wilson of Palm Springs, and Messrs. and Mmes. Rubin Lichtig, Edward Burke, L. Kaplan, A. O. Galvin, Sam Axelrod, Harold Friedman, Jack Furman, and Mmes. Anna B. Miller and Rose Klein of Desert Hot Springs.

Cornhuskers Will Picnic Saturday

A picnic will be held in Bixby Park, Long Beach, Saturday, February 23, for those who migrated from Nebraska to California. Registration will be by counties, making it easy for attendants to meet friends from their communities in the Cornhusker State. It was announced by Shiles E. Clark, president of Long Beach group.

There will be a food concession at the park.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger A. Neal (he's in the investment business) are here from Yakima, Washington for a fortnight's stay at Town and Desert. The Neals are friends of the Stephen Burkes of Yakima, who are Village home owners.

Mills Alumnae Representative At Ontario

Miss Evelyn Deane, executive secretary of the Alumnae Association of Mills College, will meet this evening at 7:30 with the San Bernardino-Riverside Branch, at the home of Mrs. Robert Belond at 410 Armsley Square in Ontario.

Miss Deane coordinates the work of nearly 8,000 Mills alumnae in their efforts to strengthen and assist the College. Last month she was elected chairman of District 9 of the American Alumni Council, the intercollegiate association of alumni organizations. Ninth district includes the 35 member colleges in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii.

Any alumnae or friends of Mills

College in the Palm Springs area who would like to attend the meeting can call the hostess Mrs. Belond at Yukon 61-8133 or the area chairman Emily Dorsey at Banning 9-3584.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Saxton is in a very unenviable position today if you believe the knockout story in the record book of the ring.

Saxton attempts to regain the welterweight crown from Carmen Basilio at Cleveland on Friday night. He isn't given much of a chance by the experts because the last time around he was battered into limbo by the furious fists of the rugged New Yorker.

And in such a case, the records illustrate, ever since the days of the old masters it only gets worse the second time around.

In the case of the blasting Basilio, he seems to be even more ferocious once he has the knockout Indian sign on an opponent. After flooring Tony DeMarco in 12 heats to take the crown, he hammered out an exact duplicate in a rematch.

THREE OTHER BASILIO opponents took the double whammy. Guillermo Gimenez in nine and then in eight; Johnny Cunningham in eight and two beats, and Ronnie Harper in four and two.

It seems to work that way in most cases. Once a fighter puts a rival on the deck for keeps he usually expects—and does—do better the second time around. You can go a long way back and find proof.

Jim Jeffries, the mighty Californian, flattened Bob Fitzsimmons in 11 rounds the first time they met. The next time he required only eight rounds.

Lou Nova drew the curtains on Maxie Baer in 11 stanzas, and the next time out needed only eight heats. Joe Louis shortened the distance for Lee Ramage from eight rounds in their first bout to two in the second while against Billy Conn he needed 13 rounds in the first and only eight for the second fight blackout.

Rocky Marciano supplied more evidence of this trend. He bombed Jersey Joe Walcott in the 13th for the title. The next time they met old Jersey Joe went down in one, even if there is some doubt as to the validity of his unconsciousness. Certainly it proved that Joe wanted no more of those rocky rights.

THERE ARE NOTABLE exceptions. Louis, flattened by Max Schmeling in their first go-round, bounced back to cream Schmeling in one furious round. Then there was the Rocky Graziano-Tony Zale trilogy.

Zale lowered the boom on Rocky in six in their first bout but was bombed out himself in six in the second encounter. The third time it was bombs away from both corners and Zale wound it up in three rounds.

But these were tigers of another stripe than the usual run of fistic entertainers. Saxton doesn't quite figure in the determined class of each as Louis, Zale and Graziano.

Which is why the oddsmakers figure Basilio will play a lullaby tune on the Saxton jawbone.

Yanks, A's In 8-Player Swap

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees and Kansas City Athletics today completed a deal involving eight players.

The Yankees obtained Pitcher Bobby Shantz and Art Dittmar and Infielder Cletis Boyer. The A's received outfielder Irv Noren, Infielder Billy Hunter and Pitchers Maury McDermott, Tom Morgan and Rip Coleman.

2-County Hoop Tourney Starts Tomorrow

Four Village Teams Enter Competition

City and Coachella Recreation Dep'ts
Co-Sponsor Tourney

All four entries in the recently-closed Palm Springs Recreation Department basketball league will compete in the First Annual Independent Basketball Tournament, sponsored jointly by the City Recreation Department and the Coachella Valley Park and Recreation district.

Howard Haddock, city recreation superintendent, and Richard Whotmore, head of the Coachella district, are in charge of arrangements.

PLAY WILL START tomorrow night. Games will be played at the High School gymnasium here, at Coachella High, Banning, Yucaipa and Fontana.

Teams from Riverside and San Bernardino counties are entered in the tournament.

Each team will play at least two games, Haddock said. Semi-finals and finals will be played here and at Coachella. Individual trophies will be awarded the championship team and the winner of the consolation round.

LAURIE'S STEAK RANCH, winner of the local league, will meet Redlands here tomorrow night at the High School gymnasium at 7:30 in the first round. Palm Springs Boy's Club, second in the local league, meets the Indio National Guard there tomorrow night.

Thursday night, Palm Springs Blue Sox meet Riverside on the local floor at 7:30 in the first round. Yucaipa and Banning meet in another first round game at Banning Thursday.

Three teams from Indio, two from Riverside, three from Palm Springs, two from Fontana and one each from Redlands and Yucaipa are in the tournament.

Hebert Eligible For Champ Event

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., winner of the Texas Open, has been certified as the 23rd eligible player for the fifth annual $38,500 Tournament of Champions here April 18-21.

If all 23 participate it will be the largest field ever to start in the rich event, in which each player is guaranteed $1,000 minimum prize money.

It will be Hebert's first appearance in the tourney, which is limited to winners of major open golf tournaments in the preceding 12 months.

Village Poloists Win Two Games From Desert Air

Palm Springs Polo team won a pair of games over the weekend from the Desert Air Hotel team in two closely-fought contests.

Saturday at the Polo Grounds here they defeated Desert Air 7 to 5 and Sunday at Desert Air, won 7 to 6. A large gathering of Polo fans watched both games.

Lisle Nixon announced that this coming weekend there would be games Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Desert Air Hotel air strip and at the Polo Grounds here Saturday and Sunday.

Feature of the weekend will be games Saturday and Sunday between the women's polo team of La Jolla and San Bernardino.

Mance Bowlers Take Over Lead

Mance Fashion took over the lead in the Mixed Four League Monday night with a 14-6 record over Desert Produce which dropped to second spot with a 13-7 mark.

The K. W. William team, however, rolled 1796 to take high team series and 644 for high team game.

Ronnie Winslow was high for the men with a 483 series and 183 game.

Records of the teams as of this morning: Mance, 14-6; Desert Produce, 13-7; K. W. Williams, 11-9; Angelo's, 10-10; Jim Sharpe, 10-10; He-Shes, 2-18.

Play Under Way In Houston Open

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Houston Open defending champion Ted Kroll plus Texas Open champion Jay Hebert and runner-up Ed Furgol headed a field of 320 players today in a $5,000 pro-am warmup before Kroll puts his title on the line in the $36,000 tournament Thursday.

Those three top money-winners and 77 other exempt pros will team up with three amateurs each for the pro-am at the Houston Golf Club.

Minoso Signs

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnie Minoso, who had been the Chicago White Sox' toughest holdout, was safely back in the fold for 1957 today after talking himself into an estimated $2,500 pay raise.

Exciting Sports Show Staged At Shadow Mountain

Another exciting Sports Show was staged at Shadow Mountain Club Sunday when Olympic fencers, Maxie Mitchell and Jan Romary staged an exhibition for club members and their guests.

Both girls three times have been national champions and both have competed in the last two Olympics. In 1955, Miss Mitchell was also the Pan-American champion.

Following the fencing exhibition, Steve Mitekas and Hal Reed of UCLA presented a series of fencing diving in the club's eight pool winding up with a high comedy act with their "Drunk Diving" and "Two Sheets in the Wind" burlesques.

Red Given Bout With Giovanelli

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight Stefan Redl of Germany, who "harnessed the billygoat" Monday night for his 12th straight professional victory, will meet Danny Giovanelli of New York in another TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena, March 18.

Stocky Redl not only harnessed former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco, but drove him about the ring, out-fighting and out-roughing Paddy for a lopsided unanimous decision.

DeMarco appeared likely to be knocked out in the sixth, eighth and ninth rounds. However, tough Paddy was on the floor only once — when shoved to the canvas by Stefan in the seventh session. It was not a knockdown.

A crowd of 1,980 — the largest at St. Nick's in four years — paid $4,642 to watch Redl, former amateur welterweight champion of Germany, in his first professional main event.

On a rounds basis, Stefan won the decision: 8-1, 7-3, 6-4. It was 29-year-old DeMarco's 18th defeat in 94 fights.

Turner, Gwin Sign

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil Turner of Philadelphia and Rudy Gwin of Cleveland signed Monday for a 10-round middleweight bout to be held at the St. Nicholas Arena on March 4. The bout is the "regular" widely — televised Monday night feature.

Waldorf Given Job of Reviving Faltering 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Forty-Niners, fighting to rebuild their once powerful pro football empire, banked today on Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf's shrewd organizational talents to help lead them out of the wilderness.

The 250-pound Waldorf, who retired from California late last season after coaching the bears for 10 years, joined the Forty-Niners Monday as director of the scouting program. He is regarded as one of the best planners in the game.

Terms were not disclosed, but Waldorf described his new set-up as "satisfactory and so is the salary."

"Basically, my job will be to organize the obtaining of information on hundreds of college players who are qualified to go into professional football," Waldorf said.

HE ADDED THAT he did not know just what the team needs at this time to move back into contention in the National League.

Waldorf came to California from Northwestern in 1947 after Frank Wickhorst was fired to climax a poor 1946 season. Dubbing the Bear football team as a "sleeping giant," Pappy turned out a team that won nine out of 10 games the following year then went into the Rose Bowl for the next three consecutive seasons.

The Bears lost all of their New Year's Day games to big 10 opposition by close scores then from 1952 on went into a slow decline. California only won two out of 10 games and managed a tie in 1955 then dropped seven out of 10 last season. Before this campaign was over, Waldorf was becoming a target of the alumni and he announced a few days before the "Big Game" with Stanford that he would retire. The fired-up Bears responded by giving him a 20-18 upset over the Indians.

Now Pappy has a brand new "sick" team to go to work on.

TAR HEELS HEAD CAGE STANDINGS FIFTH WEEK

NEW YORK (AP) — The North Carolina Tar Heels led the United Press college basketball ratings today for the fifth straight time, but their point-margin over the Kansas Jayhawks narrowed for the third week in a row.

The 35 leading coaches who rate the teams for the United Press gave North Carolina 23 first-place votes and a total of 334 points. Kansas received 11 first-place votes and 315 points. The Jayhawks trailed by 19 points after being behind by 21 last week.

The ballots were based on games played through Feb. 16. There were no newcomers and only one minor change of positions in the top 10.

Fullmer Picks Up Big Paycheck

DENVER (AP) — Gene Fullmer picked up his biggest paycheck today since becoming middleweight boxing champion of the world, and he didn't even risk his crown in Monday night's unanimous 10-round decision over Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N.J.

Fullmer, 25-year-old West Jordan, Utah, slugger, received 40 per cent of the $28,000 gate paid by about 7,000 fans in Denver's City Auditorium arena. It was the largest gate in Denver fight history.

A cut Fullmer received over his left eye in the first round may cause him some concern, since he has another 10-round, non-title fight in Denver on Feb. 27 against Charlie Cotton of Toledo, Ohio. Fullmer takes on Sugar Ray Robinson in a return title match at Chicago on April 24.

There were no knockdowns Monday night, and Fullmer failed to live up to the boast by his manager, Marvin Jensen, that "Gene would get him by seven."

SCORE TOPS LIST

CHICAGO (AP) — Cleveland Indian star Herb Score's total of 263 strikeouts last season was the most attained by any major league pitcher in 10 years.

Indians, Arabs In Traditional Clash Tonight

Kazmier's Boys Seek 50-50 Standing in County Loop Finals

By LINDSAY NEILSON
Coach Al Kazmier takes his Palm Springs Indians and Papoose quintets to Coachella tonight to meet the Arabs in the traditional clash between the two desert rivals with the hope of victory and a chance to at least break even at 7 won and 7 lost for the season. The Indians are now in fifth place with a 5-7-416 mark and Coachella a game and one half behind with a .307 average. Coachella will wind up its season tonight while the Indians have one more game—Friday—hosting Perris, still winless to date.

In the first round Palm Springs won from the Arabs on the home floor 59 to 34. The Coachella Bees, undefeated in 13 Riverside County League games, whopped the local Bees 47 to 23 in that first game.

In other games tonight, Banning entertains Beaumont in a game which may well decide the championship of the 1957 RCL Varsity campaign; Hemet goes to Elsinore; and San Jacinto, runner-up, takes on Perris at Perris.

Game time for the Bee teams is 6 and for the Varsity 7 o'clock.

SAM SEZ:

"THE DESERT REALTY CO. believes in deeds, not words—so we hasten to direct your attention to the following good buy:—
THE BEST hotel or movie colony site in this valley. I own it, so this is one time you can't go around a broker. It is a 10 acre plateau with mountains on three sides, and an open view over the desert and the high mountains. All utilities are available. A road ends on it with a small cottage now there. Location—Palm Springs Heights —10 minutes from Palm Springs. Perfect privacy and quiet. Horse trail to Palm Canyon 3 1/2 miles distance. Elevation 750 feet. Never any valley dust storms. Warmer at night than below. Subdivisions below selling $8000 to $10,000 per acre, and highly restricted.
Architects rave over this site. 40 acres in all. Will lease for 50 years for $6000 per year. Rights to sublease homesites for 50 years will more than return you your lease money. A hotel here could tunnel into the mountain and have its own atomic bomb shelter, and if they bomb March Field and they will, the fallout will reach us. Have also 120 acres joining this 1 might subordinate to right parties. Remember there is no view equal to this view. I've been here for 26 years and have roamed all over these hills. This is it. A showing will convince you. The big movie stars are coming down the valley. There is a reason. Future big enterprises are coming down this way. Learn why. $4000 commission to broker swinging this deal. Courtesy to all brokers.

1957 Emergency Campaign of UJA Officially Started in Palm Springs

Max Grone, chairman of the Palm Springs United Jewish Appeal drive, announced today that the local organization is joining immediately in the nation-wide effort to raise a $100,000,000 Emergency Rescue Fund in 1957 to cope with the greatest refugee crisis since the Hitler era.

The advance gifts division campaigned under the chairmanship of A. L. Levin and Stanley Rosin is already under way. Citing the acute plight of Egyptian and Hungarian Jews, Grone with co-chairman Henry Birns, stressed that the Emergency Rescue Drive must raise funds over and above the regular UJA campaign in behalf of humanitarian services in Israel, other overseas countries and the United States.

"No one knows," said Grone, "how many of the 66,000 Jewish men, women and children in Egypt stand to become uprooted refugees overnight. A total of 21,000 received expulsion notices in December. Of these, 3,000 were to get out within four days, the rest in four weeks. All but 600 who were able to escape, live in terror and face a black market in transportation."

Adult Education Forum of School District To Be Started Feb. 28, John Morley First

Public attention will be focused next week on the Adult Education Forum of the Palm Springs Unified School District.

Commencing on Thursday, Feb. 28, and continuing an succeeding Thursdays, the series will pinpoint current U.S. foreign policy in the key spots around the world in four lectures by noted public affairs analysts. Each of the lectures will be presented in the auditorium of the Frances Stevens School, starting at 8 p.m.

LEADING OFF ON Feb. 28 will be John Morley with his comprehensive review of affairs and personalities in the main capitals of the world, entitled, "My Eye Witness World Report—Uncensored."

Dr. Alonzo Baker of San Francisco, observer of world opinion, follows on March 7, discussing the topic, "Is U.S. Foreign Policy Good Enough?" Dr. Baker is qualified to discuss the effect of our foreign policy on world opinion in the light of the latest analyses.

CARROLL ALCOTT, noted West Coast CBS news analyst and commentator, focuses attention in the following week on the impact of world affairs on the Orient. With his thoroughness, he examines for his audience the effectiveness of U.S. policy as it attempts to counter the influence of Red agents. His lecture topic will be, "The U.S. in the Far Pacific."

Concluding the series will be Dr. Donald Manashaw, educator and photographer, who will round out the series with a color motion picture, "Conflict in the Middle East," in which he displays a photographic analysis of the peoples contending now in the Arab world. The entire series of lectures is free and the public is invited to attend. The Adult Education Forum is an offering of the Palm Springs Adult Evening School which receives partial support from the state school fund on the basis of attendance.
